MERTS AT SYRACUSE, N. Y., MAY 28.

OTHE AGOLTHONISTS OF THE UNITED STATES—
Our undertaking is the abolition of American slavery, every part and parcel of it. To this undertaking we are prompted by impartial love for the white man and the black man, for the slaveholder and the slave, and by supreme love for Him who gave His Son to die for all men, tecause He loved all men.

The means we employ are moral and political. They are prayer to God and argument with man, and vote that agree with and give effect to prayer and argument.

Another Presidential election is approaching. Can we rely on any of the great parties of our country to do our work in that election? On none of them. None of them go for the abolitic nof slavery. Only one of them is so much anti-slavery; and even that one is anti-slavery at but a single point. The republican party opposes the introduction of slavery into the Territories, but endorses its constitutionality in all the slave States. It lets alone the whole slave trade, not only that between the States but the coastwise trade also, which is carried on under the sanction and regulations of Congress. It lets alone slavery in the District of Columbia, it even lets alone the Fugitive Slave bill, and well it may, for it fully admits that all the States, and does not deny that all the Territories also, are the constitutional hunting ground for slaves. The republican party would have Eansas a free State. Nevertheless it would allow the abaveholder a safe pursuit over all its prairies and through all its towns after his bleeding and broken-hearted fugitives.

We need not have said all this to prove that we have no right to rely on the republican party to do our work in the coming election. Enough to this end is the fact that slavery, which we are trying to abolish, this party spreads its wing over, and denies our right to abonish. Enough to this end is it, that whilst we hold slavery to be a pre-eminent piracy, and naked outlaw, and that the c G. Cock, Gerrit Kenney, net only does not, but could not legalize it; this party, on the contrary, regards our enceavor to liberate the millions of slaves as a war upon the constitution and a violation of law.

Let it not be supposed that we undervalue the character of the members of the republican party. Not a few of them are our personal friends—esteemed and beloved by us. A considerable portion of them, we trust, are abolitionists at heart, and subscribe to our principles. But the more excellent the character of the members of this party, the more injurious the false policy which they have suffered to be stamped upon the party. That such men should make such concessions to slavery, is lamentable indeed. Alas, for freedom, when her own professed friends can consent to yield so much to slavery in exchange for so little for freedom.

Is it said that policy dictates the adoption of a platform on which all can attand who are opposed to the extension of slavery, be the degree or character of their opposition what it may. And is it argued and expected that the republican party, though starting on low ground policy, will rice into an abolition party? We answer that such a policy will, from its own inevitable influence, keep and drag down the party that adopts it. Hence, should the republican party get the reins of government, it will endeavor to satisfy the nation by restoring the Missouri compromise, and acquieting, at every other point, in the present possessions and practices. Thousands in the republican party may prove the confirmation rather than the subversion of slavery, and doubtless many a slave-holder fears this result. Nevertheless, the success of the republican party may prove the confirmation rather than the subversion of slavery, and doubtless many a slave-holder fears this result. Nevertheless, the success of the republican party may prove the confirmation rather than the subversion of slavery, which the first party of the subversion of slavery, because endorsed by anti-slavery men.

It is manifest, then, that we, who refuse Chas. Brocks.

In such an event, what room would there be for the republican party, with its distinct admission that "the slaveholoing interest in the States where it exists, is entitled, under the constitution, like all other local interests, to immunity from the interferences of the general government?" In such an event, what room would there be for the republican party, a party "disclaiming any intention to interfere with slavery in the States where it exists?" In such an event, what room would there be for the republican party, whose convention referred to was presided over by a saveholder, representing a slaveholding constituency, and bringing with him, as he himself stated, a "Southern platform," designed, as he himself stated, a "Southern platform," designed, as he himself stated, in restore the Missouri compromise as "the sentity of the slave institution," a party that, like the Janus freed Commitation Society, has its pro-slavery for the South, and its anti-slavery appeal for the North—a party in which sisveholders and anti-slavery man are to unite for the common object of a mutual compromise that shall be "the finale of all excetting commo lone," and that shall nevertheless leave the slave in his chaics!

We must not, however, concern ourselves innorinately with the question whether there will be few or many to come to us. We should find sufficient encouragement to go for ward in the assurance that God is with us. In claiming as we do the immediate and uncontitional liberation of every slave, and in designing.

Comonfort's Reforms—The Clergy and the Army—Origin of Church Property Dispute—How the Church Funds Accumulated—How the Cash is to be Used—Diplomacy of the United States—What Our Government Ought to Do-Market Reports—The Tehuantepec Plankfroad.

Comonfort is a trump, and after having knocked the Puebla rebels into a cocked hat, he has remitted them to the South as a present to Alvarez, serving as common soldiers, with a musket on their backs, generals, colonels and all, which certainly is a treat, and it is only to be and all, which certainly is a treat, and it is only to be hoped that some weak hearted fools, who are praying for their pardon already, may be sent away also. Just let their pardon already, may be sent away also. Just let him ge on in this way, and no doubt this country may become semething; but for God's sake let him be firm, and let the revolutionists get punishment instead of reward for once in their lives, and the nation will go ahead and no mistake. Besides, he has gained the great object, to have to pay and maintain a good many good-for-no-hings the less, who it would have been difficult to get id of in any other way. However, he has done more: he has dared to put a bridle upon the clergy—next to he army, or perhaps above it, the greatest cancer of he country—and this eminent service is beyond all praise; in fact, we have seen it done, and still don's believe it yet. lieve it yet.

You will recollect that the whole fuss was kicked up by the so-called law of justice, which subjected the clergy and army to the common courts in all cases of common crimes. This did not suit the holy fathers, and therefore they spent enormous sums of the church property, a great part stolen from legitimate heirs, on the destabet of sinners, who by giving it up were made to believe they could cheat the devil of his due, and so to say, bribe the A'mighty, in order to pay men calling themlives officers, to go and fight the legitimate and liberal government, speculating upon the ignorance of the peo-ple, whom they tried to make believe that their religion was in danger, for which purpose all kinds of sacrilegious tricks and blasphemous language was used, priests for-getting themselves and their holy calling, so far as to become assessins, and provoking everybody to commit the same crimes. Now this was proved, and our worthy President, after punishing the rebiest, decreed an intervention to take place with respect to the church property of Prebla, which was earried out immediately—the proceeds of the same to be used for purposes it was legitimately destined for, and besides to pay losses of private people during the siege, pensions of wounded, and assistanes to window and orphans of the killed, and also defraying the expenses of the government.

There you have the bishop in a muss; he dares to refuse the intervention, to threaten with all kinds of innaginary stuff, excommunion, &c., but all to no avail. The doors are broken open, and the measure is carried on smore. He pretends that the property cannot be employed otherwise than in matters ordained by the holy interer, and eites all kinds of anthors, from the time of the Reman emperors down to Flo IX; but he is fastly told that just from this reason, for having made such a bad use of those goods and chattels, they are taken away from bim, and that according to his own quotations; he is the one subject to excommunion and all these sort of things.

The thirg most to be admired is the behavior of the people; they go with the government body and soul, and know very well that nonody attacks the religion, and therefore they lift no hand to defend the priest, who have faithed by that the mass of the people are not so lynerant as was generally supposed, and if they only sike to it, and proceed with other improvements at the same time, something may be made of them yet.

Respecting our diplomatic affairs with this country, it is a pity that our government should continue to one so blind as not to precive that now is the time to conclude a treaty, and which could be obtained on more liberal terms than ever before, although the actual Minister of Foreign Affairs is a hard customer to deal with. He is anown in Washington, however, having filled the post of Ministers of the c

A good many articles might be exported, principally in the iss of woods, drugs and meniones, but the roads are in too tad a sare to think of it.

It appears that the project of a plank road across the more directly affect us. It is already known that the wealthy house of Barron, Forbes & Co., of tepc., has been persecuted, and visited with unprevoked outrage through the hate and envy of rivals, and that Mr. Forbes, United States Consul, had been exiled since January, as he still is. The result of our not having a representance in Tepic is, that americans have suffered, and are victimized by the authorities of the place. For the purpose of persecuting them, the local Commodate pre-ended that a conspiracy had been formed, and ordered Mr. William Collier, the manager of Barron, Forbes & Co.'s factory, called Janja, to be arrested. He was kept four days in solitary confinement, under constant guard, and in the meantime, the factory and Collier's house were searched, and it became necessary to close the former, as there was no one to manage it. So it remains at our latest dates. On examining Collier's house, there were in it only his wife, her sister, and six little chuldren of his. The officer in command of the solidiers who had entered the house, ordered them to fire at any noise they might hear. One soldier presented his piece, loaded and cocked, at a little daughter of Collier's, about ten years old, because she was going out at the door.

No examination of Collier took place till the fourth day, and then by a minitary judge incompetent under the existing laws of the country. Collier asked who was his accuser or creditor, that he might let him know who he was, and was told that the proof against him consisted of an anonymous or unsigned letter, when, in very bad Reglish, appears to have been directed to the director of another factory in Guadalajara, called Ki Batam. Collier got irritated at this barbarons anonymous proceeding, which nowhere, nor by the laws of Maxico, are held as causes for arrest, and he expressed himself in corresponding terms. What he said in this declaration was written down by his judge, and Collier refusing to sign it, because what he had not said was inserted in it, the Judge returned
